

Henry D Ephron served his country during Word War II as a cryptanalyst and language expert. He is educated in the classics and has retired from university teaching in this area. ADDRESS: 800 Woodworth Ave., Missoula MT 59807 USA.

David August is an undergraduate student at Princeton University and is the winner of the Cryptologia Fourth Annual Undergraduate Paper Competition in Cryptology. ADDRESS: 1092 Los Robles, Palo Alto CA 94306 USA.

Masahiro Yagisawa is an instrumentation engineer at Showa Denko, a petrochemical company in Japan. He received a Master of Technology from Tokyo University in 1976. His interest in cryptography was aroused when he cam across an article relating to a public-key cryptosystem in a transaction of Nikkei Electronics in 1979. ADDRESS: Irie 1-16-10-1042, Kanagawa-ku, Yokohama-shi, Mz 221, JAPAN.

Russell Atkinson is a graduate of the University of California, Santa Barbara, where he received a BA in mathematics in 1969, and of Boelt Hall of Law, University of California, Berkeley, where he received a JD in 1973. He studied Japanese during a one-year sojourn as an exchange student at International Christian University, Mitaka, Tokyo, Japan, and Chinese (Mandarin) subsequently at Defense Language Institute, Monterey CA. He is currently an attorney in government practice in Palo Alto CA. ADDRESS: 1848 Farndon Ave., Los Altos CA 94022 USA.

INDEX BY AUTHOR - VOLUME 9 (1985) CRYPTOLOGIA

Robert I. Atha
BOMBE! "I Could Hardly Believe It!"	332
Russell Atkinson
Ciphers in Oriental Languages	373
David August
Information Theoretic Approach to Secure LSFR Ciphers	351
Donald W. Davies
Charles Wheatstone's Cryptograph and Plett's Cipher Machine	155
Henry D Ephron
An American Cryptanalyst in Australia	337

Henry D Ephron served his country during Word War II as a cryptanalyst and language expert. He is educated in the classics and has retired from university teaching in this area. ADDRESS: 800 Woodworth Ave., Missoula MT 59807 USA.

David August is an undergraduate student at Princeton University and is the winner of the Cryptologia Fourth Annual Undergraduate Paper Competition in Cryptology. ADDRESS: 1092 Los Robles, Palo Alto CA 94306 USA.

Masahiro Yagisawa is an instrumentation engineer at Showa Denko, a petrochemical company in Japan. He received a Master of Technology from Tokyo University in 1976. His interest in cryptography was aroused when he cam across an article relating to a public-key cryptosystem in a transaction of Nikkei Electronics in 1979. ADDRESS: Irie 1-16-10-1042, Kanagawa-ku, Yokohama-shi, Mz 221, JAPAN.

Russell Atkinson is a graduate of the University of California, Santa Barbara, where he received a BA in mathematics in 1969, and of Boelt Hall of Law, University of California, Berkeley, where he received a JD in 1973. He studied Japanese during a one-year sojourn as an exchange student at International Christian University, Mitaka, Tokyo, Japan, and Chinese (Mandarin) subsequently at Defense Language Institute, Monterey CA. He is currently an attorney in government practice in Palo Alto CA. ADDRESS: 1848 Farndon Ave., Los Altos CA 94022 USA.

INDEX BY AUTHOR - VOLUME 9 (1985) CRYPTOLOGIA

Robert I. Atha
BOMBE! "I Could Hardly Believe It!"	332
Russell Atkinson
Ciphers in Oriental Languages	373
David August
Information Theoretic Approach to Secure LSFR Ciphers	351
Donald W. Davies
Charles Wheatstone's Cryptograph and Plett's Cipher Machine	155
Henry D Ephron
An American Cryptanalyst in Australia	337

Ralph Erskine
An Early Success Story: Book Review	52
British Intelligence - Volume 3, Number 1 - Book Review	262
Review of Things Cryptologic	294
ENIGMA and the Polish Contribution: Book Review	316
Ole Immanuel Franksen
Expert Witness (Book Excerpt)	63
James J. Gillogly
Fast Pattern Matching for Word Lists	55
David Kahn
The Annotated The American Black Chamber	1
Fred W. Kranz
Early History of Riverbank Acoustical Laboratory	240
Louis Kruh
An Armchair View of the Smithsonian Institution
Cipher Machine Exhibit	38
Cipher Equipment	154
Reviews of the Literature	176
The Kryha Liliput Ciphering Machine	252
Cryptology and the Law - III	273
Review of Things Cryptologic	294
Automatic Communications with the SIGABA and the M-294	311
Early Communications Security in the US Navy	324
Cryptology and the Law - IV	348
Joseph B. Kruskal
A Trigraph Cipher with a Short Key for Hand Use	202
Greg Mellen
Cryptanalysts' Corner	70
Cryptanalysts' Corner	161
Cryptanalysts' Corner	289
John R. Michener
The "Generalized Rotor" Cryptographic Operator
and Some of its Applications	97
Application of the Generalized Rotor Cryptographic Operator in the
Construction of Substitution-Permutation Network Block Code	193

Douglas W. Mitchell
A Polygraphic Substitution Cipher Based on Multiple Interlocking Applications of Playfair	131
Charles Murray
The Crypt Bug	92
R. Odoni
Extension of RSA Cryptosystems to Matrix Rings	140
Richard Outerbridge
DEA and LUCIFER Available on COMPUSERVE	238
Robert Price
A Conversation with Claude Shannon: One Man's Approach to Problem Solving - Interview	167
Charles T. Retter
A Key-Search Attack on Maclaren-Marsaglia Systems	114
Robert Scott
Wide-Open Encryption Design Offers Flexible Implementations	75
V. Varadharajan
Extension of RSA Cryptosystems to Matrix Rings	140
H. C. Williams
Some Public-Key Crypto-Functions as Intractable as Factorization	223
Brian J. Winkel
There and There - A Column of News	240
Masahiro Yagisawa
A New Method for Realizing Public-Key Cryptosystem	360
Forty One and Strong: Arlington Hall Station	306

